Ladies and Gentlemen,

we are honored to invite you to the International Jubilee Scientific Conference Lifelong Learning. Challenges for non-formal and informal education. The subject of the conference will revolve around challenges and the latest social trends as well as the situation on the labor market. In the face of ongoing transformations, it becomes important to focus on lifelong learning, which should accompany human growth. Due to the classification of education as the competence of the future, it is important to use the opportunities for education in its non-formal and informal forms, both in the organized aspect and in self-education.

Conference goals:

- developing conclusions for practice in the field of non-formal and informal education;
- compiling practical postulates in the field of environmental protection and sustainable development;
- drawing up conclusions regarding the competencies of the future;
- developing practical postulates in the context of the challenges of the changing labor market.

We invite scientists and practitioners, academic teachers, career advisors, employees of local government, NGOs and public institutions to take part in the conference.

Suggested thematic blocks:

1. Perspectives of non-formal education.
2. New areas of informal education.
3. Competencies of the future.
4. Challenges of the modern labor market.
5. Environmental protection and sustainable development.

We would like to invite you to actively participate in the conference. Your presence will grace the scheduled scientific meeting and the 10th anniversary of the Institute of Social Affairs and Public Health of the Pedagogical University of Krakow, whose scientific mentor is prof. dr hab. dr h. c. multi Stefan M. Kwiatkowski.

We hope that the conclusions from the presented research will find practical application in the designed educational programs.

Publication guidelines:

- The article should be prepared in Polish or English.
- The text should be prepared in MS Word, using the Times New Roman font, size 12, line spacing 1.5, margins – 2.5 cm, justified text.
- The maximum number of characters with spaces in the prepared article is 20,000, including footnotes and bibliography.
- For footnotes (in the form of bibliographical references) and bibliography, the editing standard set by the American Psychological Association (APA) applies

Footnote template:

a) Publication by 1 author:

Author's name (date) text.

Example: Kowalski (2010) states that...

Research shows that... (Kowalski, 2010).

b) Publication by 2 authors:

Always include the names of both authors and the date of publication.

Example: As suggested by Kowalski and Nowak (2014)...

Research shows that... (Kowalski, Nowak, 2014).

c) Publication by 3–5 authors:

When referring to a paper for the first time, the names of all authors should be given, separated by commas and the conjunction “and” between the last two names.

Example: As suggested by Nowak, Kowalski, and Kliś (2014)...

Research (Nowak, Kowalski and Kliś, 2014) shows that...

For subsequent references to the same paper, the term “et al.” may be used.

d) Publication by 6 or more authors:

Only the name of the first author should be mentioned, both when the paper is cited for the first time and in further references.

e) When referring to several papers, they should be listed alphabetically, according to the author's surname; when referring to several papers by the same author, published in the same year, the date is followed by a, b, c.
